

THE END AND THE BEGINNING OF A CAREER

BURIAL OF LORD ROBERTS IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, LONDON.

The grave of Field Marshal Earl Roberts is near the last resting places of two other famous leaders, Wellington and Nelson. What is described as an almost unique honor was the fact that King George attended the funeral service in person instead of being merely represented. At the end of the service, Garter King-at-Arms, taking his place beside the open grave, recited the style and titles of the dead.

Drawn by A. Forestier.

Copyrighted, 1914, by the Sun Printing and Publishing Association by special arrangement with the Illustrated London News.

BRITISH OFFICERS PLAYING BELLUM, THE WAR GAME

Movable screens are used to hide such movements as in actual warfare the enemy could not see. By means of colored ribbons representing rivers, railways, roads, &c., red string marking the contours of the country, and conventional signs for woods, lakes, villages, a map of any country can be made on the white cloth of a table.

From a drawing by L. Begg.

Copyrighted, 1914, by the Sun Printing and Publishing Association by special arrangement with the Illustrated London News.